

FIABCI Scholarship Foundation Announces Grants for Fall 2025

The FIABCI Scholarship Foundation continues to support the next generation of global real estate leaders who have shown academic achievement, support the UN Sustainable Development Goals, show financial need and a history of community involvement.

The Trustees are pleased to confirm eight outstanding young professionals were awarded grants to complete their degrees:

- Maria Jose Moreno Falla from Colombia is pursuing a Master in Real Estate from Harvard. She plans to lead projects that address the critical housing and urban development challenges in Latin America.
- Zoya Zahed from India has started her Master in Law at the University of Cambridge and is focused on new ideas to resolve real estate and construction disputes.
- Muram Bacare from Türkiye will complete her Master at Harvard in November 2026 and be a leader in housing recovery and post-disaster development.
- Nicholas Fest from the US plans to use his Master's from the University of Miami to combine financial expertise with cultural understanding to create projects that generate both strong returns and positive community impact.
- Siddhant Phulendra Kothari is at UC Berkley where he is researching innovative insurance models that can balance affordability for households in climate-hazard zones with solvency for insurers, promoting resilient and equitable risk transfer.
- Yosra Meskinyar is an outstanding student at Oxford Brooks University and a FIABCI Student Member of the Saudi Arabia Chapter. She plans to introduce transparency, structure, and innovation to Saudi markets.
- Eesha Sanghrajka's long-term goal is to return to Kenya and directly influence the real estate development industry by creating affordable, sustainable, and inclusive housing.
- Kong Ki Wong attending Feng Chia University in Taiwan has the vision to create scalable, mixed-use developments that serve as a model of sustainable architecture and strategy.

Grants are awarded twice each year with application deadlines March 30 and September 30 and are available to students enrolled in FIABCI Academic Member Universities, FIABCI Members and their children in all Regions.

The FIABCI Scholarship Foundation is funded by members of FIABCI, the International Real Estate Federation. FIABCI is a business network of real estate professionals worldwide providing access and opportunity for real estate professionals interested in gaining knowledge, sharing information and conducting international business. www.fiabcischolar.org.
